The Mobile Clinic

The RAPHA (Rural Area Physical Health Advancement) mobile clinic is a team of nurses and a doctor that travel to the rural areas of Sri Lanka attending to the medical needs of the people. Jehovah Rapha means "The Lord our Healer."

Many people walk a very long distance to come to the clinics. Most of the clinics operate from churches in the local areas. The most popular clinic at the moment is one held at a Buddhist temple - strangely enough a large number of Muslims attend this clinic!

Apart from the regular church-based clinics, the team hold clinics at three orphanages and a day care centre.

In 2005 the mobile clinic team treated 12,500 patients at their regular clinics.

The Team

Sherine now leads the mobile clinic team and continues to carry out the vision of RAPHA. There are currently six nurses and one doctor.
